Since opening in 2009, the Lyon Housemuseum has astonished and confounded visitors with its unique combination of a remarkable collection of contemporary art and a building which is both house and museum. The Housemuseum challenges and engages visitors with new ideas about public and private space, looks at the relationship between art and architecture and explores new ways of displaying and experiencing art. The Housemuseum is the story of a partnership between collector and architect Corbett Lyon and his wife, Yueji Lyon, who have shaped a collection of Australian contemporary art over the last twenty six years. The collection was established with the intention of making works available for public viewing, and for research and education. From modest beginnings in the late 1980s, the Lyon Collection has grown to become one of the largest and most significant in the country, offering insights into Australian contemporary art practice from the early 1990s through the first two decades of the twenty first century. The Housemuseum was designed by Corbett Lyon, as both a family home and as a building which would allow works from the Collection to be displayed for public viewing. The Housemuseum represents a new and experimental architectural type - a hybrid of house and museum. Partir à la découverte des richesses insoupçonnables des quelque 50 musées ou lieux de mémoire de Lyon et du département du Rhône, c'est aussi découvrir la ville et ses environs autrement. Le premier musée de Lyon fut celui des Beaux-Arts, ouvert en 1802 dans l'ancienne abbaye royale des Dames de Saint-Pierre. Suivi, au milieu du siècle, par le musée d'Art et d'Industrie installé dans le palais de la Bourse par la Chambre de commerce et d'industrie de Lyon. Le muséum d'Histoire naturelle fut ouvert, lui, en 1919. Quant au musée historique de la ville, aujourd'hui Musée Gadagne, il fut inauguré en 1921. Enfin, le musée des Tissus prit possession de l'ancien hôtel de Villeroy en 1946. Aujourd'hui, petits et grands musées de Lyon et du département du Rhône couvrent tous les champs scientifiques et artistiques et attirent chaque année un public de plus en plus nombreux, pour lequel a été créée la déjà célèbre Nuit des musées, sans oublier les non moins appréciées Journées européennes du patrimoine. Pour découvrir la ville autrement, rien de tel que de tirer le fil de la soie à Lyon. Lyon, capitale de la soie ? Que veulent dire ces mots pour tous ceux qui souhaitent en savoir davantage sur cette industrie qui fit la gloire de Lyon du XVI<sup>e</sup> siècle au milieu du XXI<sup>e</sup> siècle. Qu'est-ce qu'un canut ? Pourquoi le marchand de soie est-il appelé à Lyon du nom de fabricant ? La Grande Fabrique a tant marqué la ville que celle-ci semble respirer encore au rythme de ses métiers, de ses révoltes, de ses fastes et de ses crises. Lyon est bien fille de la soie et il devenait urgent de conduire les visiteurs sur les lieux de la Soie, là où la Grande Fabrique a modelé la ville, du quartier Saint-Georges à la Croix-Rousse, en passant par la Presqu'île. Décryptage d'une époque révolue certes, mais à la présence tenace, sur toute la ville et ses environs, autour de Tarare, Bourgoin-Jallieu et Saint-Etienne. Pour tout savoir et bien comprendre, enfin !
